

RE-ACT

ecophonic actions and reactions

What are the sonic objects and bodies that will allow us to co-exist and stay connected with our living environment – or not?

INSTRUCTIONS

Choose a physical sound object that embodies landscape – in your ears, and that has the potential to stimulate environmental sensibility.

Present this sound object as part of a sketch for an intervention in public space.

Try to think about the ecophonic quality that you wish to attribute to your object, and try to find an object that represents this quality in a sonic way.

Be creative with that task – no photos or sound recordings as representatives, we want a physical object and a project sketch integrating it.
